BICOCCA EXPERT WEEK

From February 26 to March 2 2018

University of Milano-Bicocca
Aula Martini, Building U6
Piazza dell'Ateneo Nuovo, 1 - Milan

February 26

Modeling and Analyzing Big Genomic Data
Bioinformatics and Sequencing
Modeling and recognition of visual data using CNNs
How to create new value with Data Science? Challenges and perspectives of an old yet new discipline

February 27

E2MC: exploiting social media for rapid mapping during emergencies
New sources for Official Statistics: IT Challenges
Methodological Issues in Big Data Processing for Official Stats

February 28

The use of big data in air transportation networks
Data fo the educational policies
The science of where from Analytics to Artificial Intelligence, through the IOT
E01 Ecosystem: Unlocking Business Value
The use of all data of an hospital for quality and research
Neuroscience: from biology to (big) data science

March 1st

Recommendation Systems - Challenges for Data Scientists
Data Journalism
Turning ideas into projects and innovation into Country's success

Seminar
"THE GENDER GAP IN EDUCATION AND RESEARCH"
What do we do tonight? What we do every night: try to conquer the world. Five unexpected sources of bias to manipulate our vision
Experiences in University/Private sector collaborations on gender gap issues: past, present and future
Networking Women

March 2

Seminar
"MYTHS AND REALITY OF ARTIFICIAL INTELLIGENCE"

Bicocca Expert Week is an event in which experts from universities and companies discuss the emerging topics of Data Science and Computer Science.
The event is aimed at academics, students, companies and public administrations based in the Milan area.

Free registration:
bicoccaexpertweek2018.eventbrite.it

@dsUniMib

dataScienceBicocca

Laurea Magistrale in DataScience